Biche is the third-place finisher in this year's Yushun Himba (Japanese Oaks) and a grade-race winner in the Shion Stakes where she beat subsequent Shukasho winner Vivlos by 2-1/2 lengths. Trained by Yuichi Shikato who won the 2008 Japan Cup with Screen Hero, she will make use of her weight advantage to accomplish a feat of becoming the first three-year-old filly to claim the Japan Cup following Gentildonna in 2012.

Unraced as a two-year-old, the Deep Impact filly won her debut start in February where she was rated in mid-division and demonstrated a strong kick in the last 300 meters for a five-length victory. The bay filly registered another win in the following allowance race where she was again rated in mid-division and produced an impressive late charge after turning wide to take command in the final strides for a 1/2-length victory. She was sent to post race favorite in her first grade-race attempt in the Flora Stakes and while marking the fastest finish from racing in the very rear, she was unable to reach the leaders and was fifth. In her first G1 challenge in the Yushun Himba (Japanese Oaks), she traveled in mid-pack and accelerated strongly to take the lead 200 meters out but was overtaken in the last strides to finish third.

Back from a summer break, Biche registered her first graded victory in the Shion Stakes where she raced toward the rear early then gradually advanced forward along the backstretch, assumed command entering the lane and pulled away for a 2-1/2-length win. While being posted race favorite in the Shuka Sho, the last leg of the triple crown for fillies, she sat wide toward the rear and advanced from 800 meters out but failed to respond in the stretch to finish 10th.

Cheval Grand is a four-year-old colt steadily demonstrating his true potentials from the end of the previous season. This year, after given a sufficient amount of time to recover from his spring campaign, he is coming off his second G2 win in the Copa Republica Argentina, in which he accelerated well from racing in mid-division and took over the lead 200 meters out to mark a 1/2-length victory. A three-quarter brother to both 2013/14 Victoria Mile champion Verxina and the recent Shuka Sho victor Vivlos, the Heart's Cry colt is not to be a lightly regarded candidate bloodline-wise in his first Japan Cup bid.

Breaking his maiden in his second start as a two-year-old, he ran the fastest over the last three furlongs and dug in well for a close third in his first graded test, the Kyoto Nisai Stakes, before capping off his debut season with another third in an allowance race. A sore right shoulder forced the colt to be scratched from his scheduled kick-off start in the Wakagoma Stakes, and dull finishes in his following two grade-race starts excluded him from the two spring classics. However, gradually gaining momentum, the late developer claimed two allowance races in a row from his second start of his autumn campaign and concluded his three-year-old season with another win by a comfortable three lengths in the Orion Stakes.

He began this season exhibiting another good turn of foot in the Nikkei Shinshun Hai where he closed strongly from way behind to clear the wire two lengths from the winner in second. His big break came in the following Hanshin Daishoten where he hugged the rails in seventh, made headway from the third corner and shot to the front 300 meters out for his first grade-race victory. With confidence over the longer distance, Cheval Grand was sent off third choice in his first G1 start, the Tenno Sho (Spring), in which he saved ground in mid-division and showed good effort in chasing the two front runners but was 1-1/4 lengths from the runner-up in third. In the Takarazuka Kinen that followed, he took an economic trip in mid-field, ran gamely up to the furlong pole but came up empty and finished ninth.

This year's Satsuki Sho (Japanese 2000 Guineas) champion Dee Majesty has proved himself one of the best runners of his generation, claiming three wins out of five starts this season, all at the graded level. He marked a third and fourth in the other two legs of the Triple Crown, and is vying for a Japan Cup victory in his first outing against older horses, also with hopes of becoming the second winner for trainer Yoshitaka Ninomiya who won his first title with El Condor Pasa in 1998.

Debuted in September last year, the Deep Impact colt landed his first win in his third career-start where he took command 300 meters out and was timed the fastest in the last three furlongs. Due to a minor problem in his left hind leg, he was scratched from his next G2 Hopeful Stakes start and ended his debut season campaign.

The bay colt kicked off the present season with his first graded attempt in the Kyodo News Service Hai as sixth favorite, in which he displayed the fastest stretch run to take the lead in the final 100 meters and score a 1-1/4-length victory. Two months later in the Satsuki Sho, the eighth favorite made headway rounding the third corner from traveling wide toward the rear and came down the straight with intimidating speed to take the front 100 meters out then pulled away strongly for another 1-1/4-length victory from runner-up Makahiki. In the Tokyo Yushun (Japanese Derby), the odds-on favorite was unable to make up enough ground along the outside at the stretch to reach the two top finishers, Makahiki and Satono Diamond, while marking the second fastest finish.

His first autumn start was in the St. Lite Kinen where he accelerated smoothly rounding the third corner from a rear-pack position, grasping the lead at top-stretch, and got the best of a duel with Seewind for a neck win. As second pick in the Kikuka Sho (Japanese St. Leger), Dee Majesty swept out wide in the last turn, just outside the eventual winner Satono Diamond, but could not keep up with the speed of the winner and sustain his bid, crossing the wire three lengths behind in fourth.

Fame Game is a multiple grade-race winner over distances between 2,000m and 3,400m. He comes off a fifth-place finish in the Copa Republica Argentina—his first start after being gelded during the summer break—in which he was slow out of the gate and took time to get into gear but showed a sharp turn of speed in the last furlong while belatedly. He also finished second earlier in the season in the Diamond Stakes in which he was attempting a third consecutive title in the race, carrying top weight at 58.5 kg. While having to start from an outside stall 16 and racing far back early, he turned in an impressive charge, the fastest over the last three furlongs, to pull away from the third-place finisher by five lengths although the eventual winner had already opened up a good margin with 4.5 kilos less to carry than Fame Game.

With one win out of three starts as a two-year-old, the Heart's Cry colt claimed his first grade-race title in his three-year-old debut in the 2,000-meter Keisei Hai but was well defeated to 12th in the first leg of the three-year-old Triple Crown, the Satsuki Sho (Japanese 2000 Guineas), after which he was found to have sustained a distal radius fracture. Sidelined for more than six months and sixth in his comeback start that year, Fame Game kicked off his four-year-old campaign with a close third in the American Jockey Club Cup prior to capturing his second grade-race title in the 2014 Diamond Stakes, in which he was at the rear end of the 11-horse field early but gradually made headway, entering the stretch in second, assumed command 400 meters out then pulled away in the last furlong for a 1-1/2 length victory. He turned in another dominating 2-1/2-length victory in the 2014 Copa Republica Argentina, in which he executed a sharp finishing speed from racing mid-field, and defended his Diamond Stakes title in 2015 with another dominating fashion from the rear prior to the Tenno Sho (Spring) where he was smartly positioned in mid-division and while having to shift to the outside for the stretch run, he came up as a serious threat to winner Gold Ship while just missing his first G1 title by a neck.

Fame Game's powerful finishing speed was also well appreciated in Australia when finishing sixth in the 2015 Caulfield Cup and the five-year-old was sent to post race favorite in the Melbourne Cup. However, he was trapped in traffic early in the 24-horse field, forced to angle out wide for his stretch run and was too late to reach contention, finishing 13th.

The 2015 “Grand Prix” Arima Kinen champion Gold Actor kicked off this season, claiming the Nikkei Sho, where after pressing the pace, showed the fastest stretch drive to catch the leader for a 3/4-length win. Although heavily beaten to 12th in the Tenno Sho (Spring), he immediately claimed his first start of his autumn campaign following a long break in the All Comers where he dug in deeply when challenged by his nearest rival for a neck victory. Carrying high hopes of following in his sire’s footsteps, the lightly raced son of 2008 Japan Cup victor Screen Hero will face international competition for the first time.

Debuting in November as a two-year-old, Gold Actor broke his maiden in his third career start the following year and turned in runner-up finishes in his next two allowance races. His hopes of a spring classics challenge were dashed when he marked a fourth in his first grade-race start, the G2 Aoba Sho, but he fared well in notching two consecutive wins thereafter against older horses and was given the chance for a bid in the Kikuka Sho (Japanese St. Leger). Sent off seventh favorite, the dark bay showed a sustained effort after sitting in a forward position and finished four lengths from the winner in third which was far from disappointing given that the race had been won in record time that renewed the previous course record by a good 1.7 seconds.

The colt was then given an extensive eight-month time to further develop and the four-year-old landed his first two races in July and October. Stepping up in class, he claimed his first graded-victory in the following Copa Republica Argentina in which he marked the second fastest stretch drive to catch and head out his rival at the wire. Instead of the Japan Cup, his connections chose the year-end Arima Kinen as his next start, where he responded with an upset victory as eight favorite. The dark bay hugged the rails in third or fourth and surged to the front in the last half-furlong, strongly holding off all chasing pursuers to capture his first G1 title and extending his winning streak to four.

*Komaki rode in regional public racing from 1985 prior to acquiring his JRA jockey's license in 2004.

Hit the Target is a multiple grade-race winner hoping to capture his first G1 title in his fourth challenge in the Japan Cup. Given a good rest after heavily beaten in both the Japan Cup and the Arima Kinen last year, the son of King Kamehameha finished within the money in third coming off a five-month break in the Meguro Kinen, and while disappointing to two-digit finishes in his following two starts, he has shown improved form in his latest start in the Kyoto Daishoten in which he finished a close fifth.

Winless in five starts as a two-year-old, Hit the Target broke his maiden in his seventh career start and registered three wins and a second during 2011. Stepping up in class after winning his kick-off start in 2012, the Keiji Kato-trained four-year-old landed two consecutive wins including his first grade-race victory in the Niigata Daishoten. His second grade-race victory came in the Kokura Kinen in February of 2013 and the late-developing five-year-old marked his third grade-race victory in the Kyoto Daishoten in which he executed an explosive charge from racing mid-field to pin down proven G1 winners, Tosen Ra and Gold Ship for a neck victory. Coming off a seventh-place finish in the Tenno Sho (Autumn), Hit the Target made his first Japan Cup Challenge and turned in an impressive performance while finishing 0.5 seconds behind Gentildonna in 11th.

While winless during 2014, he raced against top runners in seven starts, four G1 and three G2 races, which included a close fifth-place finish in the Tenno Sho (Autumn) prior to his 12th-place in the Japan Cup. He was still below par in his first three starts last year but turned in an upset victory in the Meguro Kinen which he won from racing off the pace in mid-field, splitting horses for the stretch run along the inside and drawing off for a 1-1/4-length victory. He also demonstrated his powerful late charge in the following Sapporo Kinen in which he was just short of reaching the leader by a head but was unsuccessful again in his third Japan Cup challenge, finishing 13th.

Sired by Black Tide, a full brother to legendary Deep Impact, Kitasan Black exemplified his stayer talent by claiming his second G1 win this spring in the Tenno Sho (Spring) after capturing the Kikuka Sho (Japanese St. Leger) last year. He is coming off his first autumn start, the Kyoto Daishoten, where he had a perfect trip and inherited the lead 300 meters out to secure a neck-win.

Debuting in January last year as a three-year-old, the Black Tide colt immediately won his first two starts before landing the Spring Stakes in his first attempt at the graded level, holding off a strong challenge from Real Steel by a neck. However, in the following Satsuki Sho (Japanese 2000 Guineas), Kitasan Black finished a four-length third, succumbing to the extraordinary burst of speed of Duramente and persistency of Real Steel this time. He was also unable to sustain his powerful stretch run in the following Tokyo Yushun (Japanese Derby), where although racing prominently in second up to the top of the lane, he was heavily beaten to 14th, his only double-digit finish so far.

Well rested over the summer, the bay colt bounced back to form, kicking off his autumn campaign with a 3/4-length win in the St. Lite Kinen where he held off his rivals once taking the lead after racing comfortably just behind the pace. Sent off rather unexpectedly as fifth favorite in the following Kikuka Sho judging from his dam's sire, a famed sprinter, Kitasan Black and his tactics overthrew all doubts as he saved ground and was reserved in a mid-pack position, then shot to the front while splitting horses in the stretch and held off rival Real Steel by a neck for his first G1 victory. He was also impressive in his first challenge against older horses in the Arima Kinen where he held well after setting the pace for a close third.

He kicked off his four-year-old campaign with a close runner-up finish in the Sankei Osaka Hai and was sent off second favorite in the following Tenno Sho (Spring) where he dueled fiercely with Curren Mirotic in the final furlong and while giving up the lead briefly, fought back and poked his nose in front at the wire for the title. In the Takarazuka Kinen, he led the field almost to the wire but was caught in the final strides by two late chargers and capped off his spring campaign finishing third.

Six-year-old Last Impact made his overseas debut in the Dubai Sheema Classic earlier this year, in which he raced in seventh along the rails before chasing winner Postponed and runner-up Duramente persistently in the straight to mark a close third. Since his return, he finished seventh in the Takarazuka Kinen and after the summer break, he is coming into the Japan Cup off another seventh-place finish in the Kyoto Daishoten, in which he ran gamely from mid-field, improving position up to the last furlong but weakened thereafter. Following the retirement of trainer Hiroyoshi Matsuda at the end of February, the dark bay is training under Katsuhiko Sumii this season and is off to better his last year's runner-up finish.

Last Impact broke his maiden in his first start and was second in his only other race as a two-year-old. He registered 2-1-1 out of eight starts during his three-year-old campaign which included a fourth in the Kikuka Sho.

His best season came in his four-year-old season when he claimed his first graded victory in the Kokura Daishoten, where he stormed to the front from a rearward position for a comfortable 2-1/2-length win. After marking two thirds in four grade-race starts, he landed back-to-back grade-race wins, the Kyoto Daishoten and the Kinko Sho two months later. He concluded the season with a promising seventh place in the year-end Arima Kinen, about two lengths from winner Gentildonna.

He was winless in his 2015 campaign with a third in the Hanshin Daishoten and a disappointing 12th in the Tenno Sho (Autumn) prior to the Japan Cup. However, he raced impressively under British jockey Ryan Moore who gave him a ground-saving trip in mid-division and took a brief lead in the last half-furlong although caught by Shonan Pandora in the final strides to finish a neck-second.

The 2014 Japanese Derby (Tokyo Yushun) winner One and Only kicked off this season with a sixth in the Kyoto Kinen, then traveled to Dubai in March to challenge in the Dubai Sheema Classic for two consecutive years. He stalked the leader early but ran out of steam in the stretch to finish fifth. His come-back start in the Takarazuka Kinen resulted in a disappointing 14th and he was seventh in the All Comers, his first start of the autumn campaign. He is coming off an eighth-place finish in the Copa Republica Argentina.

One and Only broke his maiden in his third start in September as a two-year-old and claimed his first grade-race victory in his last start of the season in the Radio Nikkei Hai Nisai Stakes by displaying his powerful late charge. He concluded his debut season with two wins and two seconds out of six starts.

Opening his three-year-old season with a very close second in the Yayoi Sho where he turned in the field's fastest finish, he was again the fastest in the final three furlongs in the following Satsuki Sho (Japanese 2000 Guineas) where he came from way back but belatedly for fourth place behind Isla Bonita. The dark bay colt then captured his first G1 title in the second leg of the Triple Crown, the Tokyo Yushun. The third favorite exerted his strong late charge after traveling around sixth along the rails and won out a fierce duel with archrival and race favorite Isla Bonita to deny the Satsuki Sho victor's second classic title. While landing his second successive graded victory in the following G2 Kobe Shimbu Hai, he finished a disappointing ninth in the Kikuka Sho (Japanese St. Leger) and took on his first challenge against older G1 caliber in the Japan Cup then the Arima Kinen, which resulted in seventh and 13th, respectively.

The son of Heart's Cry kicked off his four-year-old season with his first overseas challenge in the Dubai Sheema Classic in March where he finished a credible third behind Dolniya and Flintshire. Continuing to be in a dry spell since his Kobe Shimbun Hai victory, his third-place finish in Dubai being the best of his six starts that year, One and Only was seventh again in the Japan Cup though sustaining bid in the stretch with only a 0.3-second gap from the winner.

Three-year-old Rainbow Line has proved competitive in various distances this season, claiming his first graded title in the mile Arlington Cup, coming in third in the NHK Mile Cup and the 2,000-meter Sapporo Kinen and finishing second in his most recent start, the 3,000-meter Kikuka Sho (Japanese St. Leger). Having already faced older horses in the Sapporo Kinen, in which he closed in on 2015 Horse of the Year Maurice by a neck margin, he will take on his second challenge against older caliber in the coming Japan Cup.

Debuting in August last year, the son of Stay Gold broke his maiden in his third start and finished ninth in his first grade-race attempt in the Tokyo Sports Hai Nisai Stakes before concluding his two-year-old season with a win in the allowance race, the Senryo Sho, where he traveled third from last, threaded between horses after entering the lane to assume command in the last 200 meters and prevailed when challenged from behind for a head victory.

He kicked off this season with a sixth in the Shinzan Kinen then registered his first grade-race win in the Arlington Cup in which he was rated toward the rear and won over a six-horse rally by a nose. He finished a respectable third in his first G1 challenge in the NHK Mile Cup where he was just short of reaching the winner and was overtaken by the runner-up just before the wire. Unable to get a clear run in the stretch and succumbing to eighth in his first start over 2,400 meters in the following Tokyo Yushun (Japanese Derby), he came back fresh after a three-month break to come in third, a neck behind runner-up Maurice, in his first attempt against older horses in the Sapporo Kinen, marking the fastest run over the last three furlongs. Despite being posted ninth favorite due to the extra distance in the Kikuka Sho, the bay colt exerted an impressive late charge down the stretch after rounding the corners the widest of the field toward the rear to cross the wire 2-1/2 lengths behind the winner in second.

Real Steel captured his much-awaited G1 victory in this year's Dubai Turf against top-class international caliber after struggling over a year of several narrow defeats, all at the graded level. Although heavily beaten in his first start back home in the Yasuda Kinen, he is coming into the Japan Cup well prepared and in good form from turning in an impressive runner-up effort in the Tenno Sho (Autumn).

The son of Deep Impact kicked off his career at the end of 2014 immediately claiming a comfortable 3-1/2-length win. His first start the following season was in his first graded attempt, the Kyodo News Service Hai, where the three-year-old accelerated from a mid-pack inner position and outdueled Duramente in the last furlong to win by 1/2 length, although he was later beaten by the same rival in the Satsuki Sho (Japanese 2000 Guineas) as well as the Tokyo Yushun (Japanese Derby) in which he finished second and fourth, respectively.

After the Tokyo Yushun, it was discovered that he had fractured his left foreleg during the race but the colt recovered well to make his comeback in the autumn Kobe Shimbun Hai where he closed willingly from mid-pack and turned in a two-length runner-up effort. He was once again second in the Kikuka Sho (Japanese St. Leger) in which he found little room at the top of the stretch but closed eagerly and was just a neck short at the wire from winner Kitanasan Black.

Real Steel landed a third in his first start of the present season in the Nakayama Kinen before his Dubai Turf success where he responded well to the urging of jockey Ryan Moore, taking command at the furlong marker and holding off the fast closing runner-up by half-a-length. The Yasuda Kinen became his first mile-distance challenge but he was used up after being keen in the early stages and faded to 11th. Skipping the Mainichi Okan and heading for the Tenno Sho (Autumn) proved fruitful as the seventh favorite kicked into gear in the last 300 meters and chased winner Maurice with the fastest stretch drive for a 1-1/2-length second.

*Tosaki rode in regional public racing from 1998 prior to acquiring his JRA jockey's license in 2013.

Rouge Buck became the first female runner in 23 years to capture the Mainichi Okan, her fall debut, in which she stormed past her rivals down the homestretch from way back to join Ambitious and out-dueled the Deep Impact colt with the fastest finish over the last three furlongs for a neck victory. She was unlucky in her last start, the Tenno Sho (Autumn), where she met traffic when attempting to angle out for a clear path, finishing seventh, but her past performances at Tokyo Racecourse stand at 3-1-0 out of six starts in which she has marked the fastest finish in all three wins.

The Manhattan Cafe filly won two out of as many starts against male rivals from the beginning of her two-year-old debut in September then made it three in a row when capturing a grade-race victory in her first grade-race challenge and three-year-old kick-off start, the Kisaragi Sho, in which she won comfortably by two lengths, drawing away with the fastest finish after taking command from a ground-saving trip behind the leader in third position. She was short of meeting expectations, however, when sent to post race favorite in her G1 debut, the Oka Sho (Japanese 1000 Guineas), in which she struggled with the slow pace and only managed to improve to ninth place from racing well behind in a field of 18 runners. She appeared to bounce back in the Yushun Himba (Japanese Oaks) where she was rated around sixth position and assumed command with 200 meters to go, but was unable to hold off the late charging Mikki Queen and was beaten by 3/4 length for second.

She was pointed towards the Prix de l'Arc de Triomphe for her fall campaign that year but the filly ran a fever and resumed racing in November in the Queen Elizabeth II Cup at Kyoto where she showed effort at the homestretch, improving from last to fourth while failing to threaten the leaders, then concluded the season, well beaten to 10th in the year-end Arima Kinen.

Rouge Buck traveled wide in mid-pack then held a brief lead at the stretch in her four-year-old debut, the Nakayama Himba Stakes, but was outrun in the final strides and just missed by a neck. She then finished a close fifth in the Victoria Mile before landing her long-awaited second grade-race victory in the Epsom Cup by a convincing 2-1/2-length margin with another impressive finish of 32.8 seconds over the last three furlongs.

*Demuro rode in Italy from 1994 prior to acquiring his JRA jockey's license in 2015.

Five-year-old Sounds of Earth, while yet to capture a graded victory, kicked off this season with his sixth graded runner-up effort in the Nikkei Sho, 3/4 length behind Gold Actor, to whom he was also a neck behind in second in the previous year-end Arima Kinen. Although finishing a disappointing 15th in the following Tenno Sho (Spring) in May, he was given a lengthy five-month break before his fall debut in the Kyoto Daishoten, where he accelerated powerfully over the last three furlongs to finish only 0.2 second behind the winner Kitan Black in fourth.

Winless in his three starts of his two-year-old season, Sounds of Earth landed his first victory in his three-year-old debut race and marked another win in the Hanamizuki Sho before coming in second to winner Hagino Hybrid in his first graded challenge, the G2 Kyoto Shimbun Hai. While his first G1 attempt in the following Tokyo Yushun (Japanese Derby) resulted in 11th, his opening race of the autumn season in the Kobe Shimbun Hai was quite impressive as the 11th pick dark bay rallied strongly with One and Only for a head second while fending off a fierce rally from Toho Jackal. He was second again in the following Kikuka Sho (Japanese St. Leger) where the fourth-pick dueled strongly while running the fastest three furlongs and finished a 1/2 length behind winner Toho Jackal who renewed the race record and course record by as much as 1.7 seconds.

The son of Neo Universe kicked off his four-year-old season with a fourth-place finish in the Nikkei Sho and a ninth in the following Tenno Sho (Spring), then was given a five-month break before marking a close second in the Kyoto Daishoten. In his first Japan Cup challenge last year, he travelled wide in mid-division and stretched well coming into the lane but weakened in the last 100 meters to finish fifth. Sounds of Earth almost captured his first G1 title in the year-end Arima Kinen, in which he closed in on Gold Actor with impressive speed and just missed by a neck.

A lightly raced five-year-old with 12 career starts, Toho Jackal kicked off this season finishing seventh in the Hanshin Daishoten and left a strong impression in the following Tenno Sho (Spring) with a good bursting speed which carried him close to the leaders from mid-field down the stretch although a wide trip in the early stages eventually caught up with him in the last furlong, slowing him down to fifth place. The son of Special Week is coming off a long break due to a minor leg problem following his 15th-place finish in the Takarazuka Kinen, forcing him to face tough international G1 caliber without any prep starts, but his potential is not to be underestimated.

Diagnosed with colitis prior to his intended debut as a two-year-old, he made a late debut as a three-year-old, a day before the Tokyo Yushun (Japanese Derby), and finished 10th in a three-year-old novice. He was unsuccessful again when tested over dirt in his next outing, finishing ninth, but broke his maiden in his third start and registered a consecutive win in an allowance race. He turned in a runner-up effort when stepping up in class in his next start and was sent to post ninth choice in his grade-race debut in the Kobe Shimbun Hai. With the fastest finish over the last three furlongs, Toho Jackal rallied in tandem with derby victor and eventual winner One and Only, crossing the wire in equal time with the first two finishers in third, and qualified to run in the last leg of the Triple Crown, the Kikuka Sho (Japanese St. Leger). Sent to post third favorite in his first G1 challenge, Toho Jackal saved ground in fifth, assumed command with 300 meters to go and held off Sounds of Earth for a 1/2-length victory while renewing the course record by 1.7 seconds for his first G1, let alone grade-race title. He became the fastest colt to capture the Kikuka Sho title, only 149 days since making his debut.

The talented colt encountered yet another set-back when a hoof injury in his right foreleg delayed his four-year-old debut until June, and faced older G1 company in his first time out in the Takarazuka Kinen. Nonetheless, he showed great effort from traveling wide throughout in mid-field, finishing two lengths behind the winner in fourth. However, he made just one more start that year in the Sapporo Kinen where he finished eighth and was given the rest of the season off to rest a strained fetlock.

*Uchida rode in regional public racing from 1989 prior to acquiring his JRA jockey's license in 2008.

Tosen Basil, while yet to capture a graded win, is coming off a three-race winning streak, the last being over the same distance and course as the Japan Cup where he will test his ability against G1 caliber for the first time.

Making his debut with a runner-up effort as a two-year-old, the son of Harbinger broke his maiden in his second start with a length margin from subsequent Derby runner-up Satono Rasen. He was second in the following Shigiku Sho and concluded the season with another win in the Habotan Sho where he turned the widest in the very rear and exploded with the fastest late drive to dislodge the leaders before the wire for a neck victory.

Tosen Basil kicked off his three-year-old season with a fifth in his first graded challenge in the Satsuki Sho (Japanese 2000 Guineas) trial, the Yayoi Sho, and finished fourth in the following Kyoto Shimbun Hai, unable to make it into the spring classics. He then earned a ticket to race in the last leg of the Triple Crown, the Kikuka Sho (Japanese St. leger), by turning in a third-place finish in his fall debut, the Kobe Shimbun Hai, where he traveled second to last and, although meeting traffic entering the lane, exerted an impressive late charge. However, a stone bruise in his right foreleg ruled him out of racing for the rest of the season.

Fifth in his first start after a nine-month break in June, the four-year-old dark bay regained his powerful late charge in the Atsumi Tokubetsu in July, in which he was rated second from last, advanced between horses through the last corners and took command in the final strides for a neck victory. He continued to demonstrate his explosive charge from behind in the following Aganogawa Tokubetsu and the October Stakes, both in which he overtook the lead in the last 100 meters for a 3/4 and 1-1/4 length win, respectively.
