Irish Derby and British St. Leger winner Capri, though winless following an injury to his shoulder after a victory in his kickoff start in April this year, turned in a respectable 3-1/4-length fifth in the Prix de l'Arc de Triomphe in October where the sixth favorite pressed the pace in second, briefly led the field after the 400-meter marker before overtaken by Enable and eventually weakened in the last 100 meters. He has been consistent in finishing within the top five in 13 out of 15 career starts while marking 3-0-2 out of seven starts at left-handed courses. The coming Japan Cup will be his first overseas challenge outside Europe.

A runner-up effort in his two-year-old debut, the gray colt broke his maiden in his second start, beating subsequent Melbourne Cup winner Rekindling by 2-1/2 lengths. The son of Galileo won the following listed El Gran Senor Stakes then extended his winning streak to three in his first graded challenge in the Beresford Stakes where he chased the leaders in third and assumed command 200 meters out for a 3/4-length victory. He was third behind Waldgeist and subsequent G1 winner Best Solution in the following Criterium de Saint-Cloud, his first G1 attempt, and capped off his debut season with 3-1-1 out of five starts.

While winless in the first three starts of his three-year-old season, he was a close third in the Derby Trial Stakes and a sixth in the Epsom Derby before claiming his first G1 title in the Irish Derby where the fourth favorite tracked the leader in second, led the field entering the lane and held off the strong challenge by subsequent four-time G1 winner Cracksman for a neck victory. Refreshed after a 2-1/2-month break, he succeeded in capturing his second consecutive G1 title in the St. Leger where the race favorite traveled fourth from the front, switched to the outside at the top of the stretch for a clear path, assumed command 400 meters out and won out a close rally to cross the wire half a length in front of the runner-up. His first Prix de l'Arc de Triomphe challenge, however, resulted in a disappointing 17th as he was forced to travel toward the rear after missing his break and was never in contention.

Capri kicked off this season with a win in the Alleged Stakes where the favorite took the front soon after the start and sustained the lead for a head victory. Sidelined for five months due to injury, the four-year-old gray resumed racing in the Prix Foy in September, finishing fifth in a field of six, but made a stronger bid in his second attempt in the Prix de l'Arc de Triomphe. He is coming off a fourth in the Champion Stakes where he pressed the pace in second and disputed the lead with eventual winner Cracksman in the straight but was again outpaced in the closing stages.

British contender Thundering Blue has showcased his latent ability this season where his performances have surged from handicap starts to an international G1 runner-up effort within the eight starts of his five-year-old campaign so far. After registering a win and a second among four handicap starts, he claimed the G2 York Stakes in his first outing in a group race, landed a third in his first G1 challenge in the International Stakes and was shipped to Sweden where he comfortably claimed the G3 Stockholm Cup International. The triumph was followed by his latest start, the G1 Canadian International, where he sat on the rails in mid-pack, shifted to the outside and took over the lead at the furlong marker but was outdueled by the fast-closing winner for a length second.

Thundering Blue debuted at the age of three and showed potential from his second start where he turned in back-to-back runner-up efforts, but was winless in his five starts and was gelded at the end of the season. Overcoming his tendency of being keen in the early stages of the race, the son of Exchange Rate finally broke his maiden in his fifth start of his four-year-old campaign where he took over the lead in the last half furlong and drew clear to a 4-1/2-length win. He went on to claim back-to-back wins, the German Young Owners And Breeders Handicap by a length, and the BetBright Recall Handicap by 1-1/2 lengths, capping off the season with 3-0-3 out of eight starts.

This year, he began his campaign with a fifth in the Investec City And Suburban Handicap and then scored his fourth career victory in the Equinity Technology Handicap where he led inside the final furlong and cleared the wire a 1-1/4-length winner. After heavily beaten in his next start, he registered a runner-up effort in the following John Smith's Cup Handicap in which he sat near the rear and was 2-1/4 lengths short of the winner.

Sent off second pick in his first group-race challenge, the York Stakes this past July, the gray gelding was held up in the rear but chased the leaders into late stretch, took command and stayed on well near the line to prevail by a neck. He was dismissed as the longest shot in his first G1 challenge, the International Stakes, but closed well from the rear to threaten, finishing third, 3-3/4 lengths from the winner but only half-a-length from the runner-up and multiple-G1 winner Poet's Word. Broadening his horizons in his first overseas endeavor, Thundering Blue was sent off race-favorite in the Stockholm Cup International in which he settled near the rear, saved ground while gradually making headway and unleashed a good turn of foot to take over the lead 200 meters out, securing his second group-race victory by an impressive two-length margin. The David Menuisier-trained gelding's is on an upward trend with a favorable record of 4-4-4 out of 15 starts going left-handed and will be put to the test against top turf runners at Tokyo Racecourse.

*Lemaire rode in France from 1999 prior to acquiring his JRA jockey's license in 2015.

Almond Eye completed a sweep of the fillies' Triple Crown in her fall debut this year, the Shuka Sho, becoming only the fifth filly in JRA history and the first since Gentildonna in 2012 to claim all three legs of the three-year-old fillies' G1 titles. The daughter of legendary sprinter Lord Kanaloa, who has made use of her speed to time the fastest finish over the last three furlongs in all six career starts, has also proved to be well-equipped to handle distances up to 2,400 meters and is now targeting to emulate Gentildonna again and become only the second three-year-old filly to claim the Japan Cup this year.

Almond Eye was second in her two-year-old debut in August last year in which the bay filly found her best stride late after searching for a clearing between horses at the stretch and short of reaching the winner by two lengths. She promptly broke her maiden in her next start two months later by taking command 300 meters out and pulling away to a 3-1/2-length victory.

Following a three-month break, she faced the boys for the first time in her three-year-old debut, the Shinzan Kinen, which she won impressively by a comfortable 1-3/4-length margin from racing way back, second from last, and registering the fastest last three furlongs on a track rated good. Coming off her first grade-race triumph, Almond Eye went straight into the Oka Sho (Japanese 1000 Guineas) three months later, where she roared through the homestretch from way behind to pull away for a 1-3/4-length victory. In the following Yushun Himba (Japanese Oaks), she was quick out of the gate to race around sixth and then was uncontested once taking the front, ultimately crossing the wire in 2:23.8 over the 2,400-meter course, the race's second-fastest time ever.

As if sensing the pressure, the Shuka Sho favorite was a little hyped up than usual in the gate, didn't have the perfect break and raced a little further back in mid-division then was forced to circle wide into the turn after meeting traffic. However, the exceptional filly demonstrated a performance of a different class, mowing down her foes along the outside and finally pinning the leader in the last 50 meters after which she continued to pull away to a 1-1/2-length victory.

*JRA races only

Defending champion Cheval Grand is set out to claim a consecutive Japan Cup title, a feat which only legendary mare Gentildonna has accomplished in 2012 and 2013. The six-year-old was beaten to 13th in the shorter distanced Osaka Hai in his first start of the season but exhibited a good stayer performance in his next Tenno Sho (Spring) start to finish a close second under Hugh Bowman. Well rested from a six-month break, he began his autumn campaign in the Kyoto Daishoten but failed to display his refined stretch kick and finished 3-1/4 lengths from the winner in fourth.

The Heart's Cry horse broke his maiden in his second start as a two-year-old and registered 1-1-2 out of four starts in his debut season which included his first graded test in the Kyoto Nisai Stakes. He suffered a sore shoulder early the next season and was below form during the spring which ruled him out of the first two classics. However, he improved considerably to register three consecutive wins and a runner-up effort in his autumn campaign.

As a four-year-old, Cheval Grand captured his first graded win in the Hanshin Daishoten and marked a close third in his first G1 challenge in the Tenno Sho (Spring). He landed another graded win in the Copa Republica Argentina that fall and demonstrated his aptitude for distances of 2,400 meter and beyond, turning in a third and a sixth in the following Japan Cup and Arima Kinen, respectively, 0.5 second from the winner in both starts.

He was consistent in 2017 during which, apart from an eighth in the Takarazuka Kinen, he finished among the top three in five starts which included a good 1-1/4-length runner-up effort behind the record-breaking Kitasan Black in the Tenno Sho (Spring). Coming off a close third in the Kyoto Daishoten, the chestnut claimed the Japan Cup with Hugh Bowman in the saddle for the first time. Bowman steered the chestnut wide entering the straight after saving ground in fourth and picked off Kitasan Black 150 meters out while holding off derby victor Rey de Oro to clear the wire a convincing 1-1/4-length winner. In his second Arima Kinen challenge that followed, Cheval Grand took a wide trip in mid-division, had plenty left in the straight but was checked in tight quarters near the furlong marker and was a close third.

Ganko claimed his first graded victory, defeating grade-race winners such as Kiseki and Seewind in the G2 Nikkei Sho in March. He set a slow pace, surrendered the lead in the backstretch but kicked into gear to take charge once again at the top of the straight and drew away strongly for a 3/4-length win. The five-year-old is coming off the G2 Copa Republica Argentina, where he was assigned the second heaviest weight, saved ground in mid-pack but lacked the final kick and finished three lengths from the winner in sixth. Twenty out of 31 of his career starts have been in dirt races but his record of 3-0-1 out of five turf starts between 2,400 and 2,500-meter distances counts him as a potential candidate in this year's Japan Cup.

Ganko made his debut on turf in 2015, then switched to dirt races four starts later and while winless that season was consistent in finishing within the top five in all six starts. The son of Nakayama Festa broke his maiden in his first start of his three-year-old campaign where he closed strongly from traveling wide in mid-field and dug in gamely before the wire for a neck win. He was tested over various distances, ranging from 1,400 to 2,500 meters in the rest of his eight starts that year which included a runner-up effort in a 2,500-meter race.

Ganko kicked off his four-year-old campaign in February 2017 with a comfortable 2-1/2-length victory and claimed another race later that year where he shook off his dueling rival in the final strides to win by half a length. At the end of the season and 21 dirt starts after his last turf race, Ganko was sent back on the grass in the Esaka Tokubetsu where, as seventh favorite, he chased the leader into the lane, inherited the lead in early-stretch and romped convincingly to a two-length victory.

He validated his suitability to turf in his first graded challenge, the Nikkei Shinshun Hai in January this year, finishing a 1-1/2-length third as seventh pick. His first win of this season was in the Shorai Stakes where the dark bay sat in third and took command 300 meters out after angling wide at the last corner for an emphatic 3-1/2-length victory followed by his Nikkei Sho title. He was unable to fire in the demanding test of the Tenno Sho (Spring) and in his first autumn All Comers start, where he finished 14th and seventh, respectively.

Three-year-old Happy Grin is the first NAR affiliated horse in nine years to run in the Japan Cup. Cosmo Bulk, who turned in a runner-up effort in the 2004 version and ran in five consecutive Japan Cups after that, was the last NAR runner at the starting gate in 2009. While most of Happy Grin's starts last season were in NAR races, six out of seven this year have been in JRA races. Among them was his first JRA victory, a 1-1/4-length win in the Saintpaulia Sho where he turned in the fastest last three-furlong charge from a third-from-rear position. The Hokkaido-based up-and-coming colt's good late speed will be put to the test against international G1 company in this year's Japan Cup.

The son of Lohengrin promptly broke his maiden in his debut start last season at NAR's Mombetsu Racecourse and after turning in back-to-back runner-up efforts, he added another win before being tested at the JRA level for the first time. He finished a 1-1/2-length third behind subsequent G1 runner-up Stelvio in the Cosmos Sho and marked another third before returning to NAR races where he registered a second, sixth and ninth. He capped off his debut season with a score of 2-3-2 out of nine starts.

The chestnut colt kicked off his three-year-old campaign this year with his victory in the JRA Saintpaulia Sho at Tokyo and proceeded to his first JRA graded challenge in the Spring Stakes where he remained a factor in the last furlong but weakened near the wire to finish eighth. In the Tokyo Yushun (Japanese Derby) trial Principal Stakes, Happy Grin closed well from the far rear to finish 0.3 second behind the winner and subsequent derby third-place finisher Comic Force in fourth.

After scoring a head-neck third in the following Tomoe Sho, he romped to victory in the STV Sho where he made headway from the rear and circled wide before showing tremendous speed to capture his second JRA win by a 2-1/2-length margin. He then registered his fifth career and third turf-race win in the ORO Cup held at NAR's Morioka Racecourse in September in which he chased the leader in third, took the front 200 meters out and won by a substantial four-length margin. He is coming off his second JRA grade-race start, the Fuji Stakes, where he failed to fire from the rear and was eleventh.

2017 Kikuka Sho (Japanese St. Leger) winner Kiseki is coming off a third in the Tenno Sho (Autumn) where he immediately took command from gate 10 and continued to hold on well in the homestretch but was overtaken by Rey de Oro 100 meters out and nosed out by Sungrazer at the wire. The four-year-old dark bay kicked off this season with a ninth and an eighth in the Nikkei Sho and the Takarazuka Kinen, respectively, but picked up his form coming into the fall season in the Mainichi Okan as he chased the pace in second and rallied persistently in the stretch while carrying the heaviest weight of the field and finished a neck short of the runner-up for third place.

Sired by Rulership, winner of the 2012 Queen Elizabeth II Cup in Hong Kong and third in the Japan Cup that year, Kiseki won his only race as a two-year-old with a comfortable 3-1/2-length victory in December. He then marked a fifth and a third in his first two starts of his three-year-old season before his first graded challenge in the Mainichi Hai where he finished a respectable third, a length behind subsequent Satsuki Sho (Japanese 2000 Guineas) victor Al Ain.

While unable to qualify for the first two legs of the Triple Crown, Kiseki came back fresh from a four-month break to land two consecutive wins in allowance races against senior contenders, both by turning in the fastest late drive after traveling third from last. He then marked a runner-up effort in the Kobe Shimbun Hai, finishing two lengths behind Tokyo Yushun (Japanese Derby) winner Rey de Oro. Breaking slowly over soft going under the heavy rain in the last leg of the Triple Crown, the Kikuka Sho, the race favorite traveled wide in mid-division toward the rear and exploded powerfully into the homestretch and further accelerated after taking the front 200 meters out for a two-length victory. Though his first overseas challenge in the Hong Kong Vase resulted in ninth, he concluded his three-year-old season with three wins, a second and two thirds out of eight starts.

Mikki Swallow is a grade-race winner of the St. Lite Kinen as a three-year-old and is lightly raced this season. Carefully chosen for his first four-year-old comeback was the American Jockey Club Cup, where he traveled two off the rear, made headway after the third corner, entered the lane in third and with the fastest closing speed, ran on gamely to the wire but was two-lengths short from the winner to finish second. In his second G1 challenge in the following G1 Osaka Hai, he saved ground towards the rear, circled wide at the last turn and stretched willingly but was three lengths from the front in fifth. Given a four-month layoff, the four-year-old then started in the Sapporo Kinen as third favorite and hit the straight with plenty left from racing near the rear but met traffic in the final furlong and lost momentum, giving way to 13th. He is coming into the race fresh from a three-month break for his first Japan Cup challenge.

Still physically immature as a two-year-old, the Tosen Homareboshi colt began his career in February of his three-year-old season and broke his maiden in his second start where he advanced from a rearward position and took command at the furlong pole to win by 3-1/2 lengths. A consecutive win followed in the Himesayuri Sho in which he raced in mid-division, circled wide into the lane and drew clear 100 meters to a 1-1/4-length victory. However, he missed his chance to start in the Tokyo Yushun (Japanese Derby) from turning in a fifth in his first graded start, the G2 Kyoto Shimbun Hai.

After marking a close third in the Iwaki Tokubetsu that summer, the Takanori Kikuzawa-trained colt claimed his first graded win in the Kikuka Sho (Japanese St. Leger) trial, the St. Lite Kinen, in which he sat in mid-pack, switched to the outside in early stretch and picked off Satsuki Sho (Japanese 2000 Guineas) victor Al Ain 100 meters out to win by 1-3/4 lengths. The bay colt advanced position into the lane from traveling wide in the last leg of the Triple Crown, the Kikuka Sho, but was unable to handle the soft track and longer distance, weakening in the last 100 meters for sixth.

He has a record of being timed the fastest over the last three furlongs in six of his 10 career starts which he hopes to demonstrate in his first left-handed and 2,400 meter-distanced race in the Japan Cup.

Five-year-old Noble Mars, while yet to capture a graded victory, made a spectacular G1 debut in the Takarazuka Kinen in June this year where the 12th favorite followed Mikki Rocket into the stretch and, while unable to match the winner and outpaced by Hong Kong raider Werther, held on well for third place. The chestnut is coming off a ninth in the Copa Republica Argentina, in which he again chased the leader in second or third but was outrun in the last 200 meters.

The son of Jungle Pocket broke his maiden in his fourth start as a two-year-old with a wire-to-wire victory and capped off his debut season with a win, a second and two thirds out of six starts, which included a third-place finish in the Daily Hai Nisai Stakes, his first graded attempt.

Runner-up to subsequent derby winner Makahiki in his second start of his three-year-old season in the Wakagoma Stakes, Noble Mars scored his second victory with another wire-to-wire victory in the Yukiyanagi Sho but was unable qualify for the classics. He captured another victory with a 2-1/2-length margin against older horses in October and capped off the season with a fifth before taking a four-month break. While consistent during his four-year-old season, his only win was in the Sanda Tokubetsu in June where he angled wide from mid-division and ran the fastest over the last three furlongs for a 1-3/4-length victory. His performance that year was 1-2-2 out of seven starts.

He kicked off his five-year-old season with the Geishun Stakes where he took command entering the lane and accelerated for a two-length victory. Though unsuccessful in his next two starts including his first graded challenge in a year and a half, he marked a runner-up effort in the Metropolitan Stakes at the same course and distance as the Japan Cup—the seventh pick hugged the rails in third and took the front coming into the homestretch but was overtaken to reach the wire 3/4 length behind the winner. He was second again in the following Meguro Kinen, a 2,500-meter G2 race also taken place at Tokyo, where he saved ground in third and stretched well in the last 200 meters after escaping traffic.

*JRA races only (as of November 18)

Satono Crown kicked off this season with his third overseas endeavor in the Dubai Sheema Classic in March but was unable to show his usual late kick following disadvantages early in the race. Though failing to defend his title in the following Takarazuka Kinen, the son of Marju is fresh out of a five-month summer break to aim for his first win in 18 months.

Winning both his two-year-old starts including the G3 Tokyo Sports Hai Nisai Stakes, he kicked off his three-year-old season with another graded victory in the Yayoi Sho. While being posted race favorite in the Satsuki Sho (Japanese 2000 Guineas), the dark bay was unable to make up ground in the stretch after racing in the rear due to a slow break and finished sixth. He displayed an impressive late drive from the rear in the Tokyo Yushun (Japanese Derby) but was two lengths short of Duramente to finish third and concluded his three-year-old season with a disappointing 17th in the Tenno Sho (Autumn), his first challenge against older horses.

Satono Crown came back the following season with a win in the Kyoto Kinen, pressing the pace in second and taking the front in the last corner for a comfortable three-length margin. He was, however, heavily defeated in his first overseas expedition to Hong Kong in the Queen Elizabeth II Cup in April. He was unable to bounce back to form returning to Japan, finishing sixth and 14th in the Takarazuka Kinen and the Tenno Sho (Autumn), respectively, but regained his powerful late charge when taking on his second overseas challenge in the Hong Kong Vase where he was caught between horses entering the lane but weaved his way and broke loose from the pack 300 meters out, nailing Highland Reel just in time for an upset victory.

He kicked off his five-year-old season with back-to-back wins in the Kyoto Kinen, winning out a fierce rally with multiple grade-race winners. After finishing sixth in the Osaka Hai, he registered his first JRA-G1 title in the Takarazuka Kinen in June, where he broke from the outermost draw and exerted the fastest late kick on soft track. He launched his fall campaign with a close second in the Tenno Sho (Autumn), where he came looming up inside Kitasan Black in the lane and just missed by a neck, but was below form thereafter, concluding the season with double-digit finishes in the Japan Cup and the Arima Kinen.

The 2016 Best-Three-Year-Old Colt Satono Diamond is coming off a win in the Kyoto Daishoten where he was rated around 6-7th in a field of 11, took command 200 meters out and held off the strong challenges from behind for a 1/2-length victory, his first win in seven starts. He is looking to capture his third G1 title at Tokyo Racecourse where he succumbed to a nose second in the Tokyo Yushun (Japanese Derby).

The son of Deep Impact showed great potential from his two-year-old debut, scoring three consecutive wins including his first start as a three-year-old in the Kisaragi Sho, where he exerted an impressive late kick to claim his first graded victory with a 3-1/2-length margin. His first G1 challenge as odds-on-favorite in the Satsuki Sho (Japanese 2000 Guineas) resulted in a third due to a disadvantage at the lane and he fell just short of claiming the Tokyo Yushun, outdueled by Makahiki to a photo-finish second.

Launching his autumn season with a win in the Kobe Shimbun Hai, defeating the subsequent Takarazuka Kinen winner Mikki Rocket, Satono Diamond captured his first G1 title in the following Kikuka Sho (Japanese St. Leger) where he hugged the rails in mid-division, took a wide turn rounding the last corners and easily accelerated after taking command 300 meters out for a 2-1/2-length win. He continued to fare well against older caliber in the year-end Arima Kinen as he chased Kitasan Black and quickened strongly in the last 100 meters for a neck victory.

Satono Diamond extended his winning streak to four by winning his kickoff start of his four-year-old season in the Hanshin Daishoten, pinning Cheval Grand 100 meters out for a 1-1/2-margin win. He then finished 1-1/2-margin third from record-breaking Kitasan Black in the following Tenno Sho (Spring). His first overseas expedition after a lengthy summer break resulted in a fourth and a disappointing 15th in the Prix Foy and the Prix de l'Arc de Triomphe, respectively.

While showing an improvement in his performance in the Kinko Sho this year, running the fastest last three furlongs for third place, he was unable to exhibit his usual late kick in the following Osaka Hai and the Takarazuka Kinen.

Seven-year-old Sounds of Earth, while yet to capture a graded victory, boasts seven runner-up efforts at the graded level, three of them G1, including the 2016 Japan Cup. Though unable to finish within the money since then, he is beginning to regain his strong late charge, running the third fastest over the last three furlongs in two out of three starts this year—the Sapporo Kinen in August where he stretched well after traveling close to the rear and rallied with the top three finishers, which included derby winner Makahiki, to finish 0.1 seconds behind the winner in fourth, and the previous Mainichi Okan where he advanced from the rear with strong but belated charge for a ninth.

Winless in three starts as a two-year-old, Sounds of Earth landed his first victory in his three-year-old debut and marked another win before coming in second in his first graded challenge, the Kyoto Shimbun Hai. While his first G1 attempt in the following Tokyo Yushun (Japanese Derby) resulted in 11th, his opening race of the autumn season in the Kobe Shimbun Hai was impressive as the dark bay rallied strongly for a head second. He was runner-up again in the following Kikuka Sho (Japanese St. Leger).

Finishing fourth and ninth in his first two starts of his four-year-old season, the son of Neo Universe launched his autumn campaign with a runner-up effort in the Kyoto Daishoten and was fifth in his first Japan Cup challenge where he stretched well coming into the lane but weakened in the last 100 meters. Sounds of Earth almost captured his first G1 title in the year-end Arima Kinen, in which he closed in on Gold Actor with impressive speed but just missed by a neck.

He kicked off his five-year-old season with another runner-up effort in the Nikkei Sho and finished a disappointing 15th in his second Tenno Sho (Spring) challenge but gradually showed an uplift in his performance, finishing fourth in the Kyoto Daishoten then coming in 2-1/2 lengths behind Kitanas Black and besting the rest of the field in his second Japan Cup challenge. His six-year-old season was not so fruitful, finishing sixth in his first overseas challenge in the Dubai Sheema Classic and marking double-digit finishes in the Kyoto Daishoten and the Japan Cup but showing good effort to finish seventh, 0.6 seconds behind Kitanas Black in the year-end Arima Kinen.

*Demuro rode in Italy from 1994 prior to acquiring his JRA jockey's license in 2015.

Multiple grade-race winner Suave Richard kicked off his four-year-old campaign with a win in the G2 Kinko Sho where he chased the leader into the stretch and dug in well in the last half-furlong to grab the title by half a length. As race favorite in the following Osaka Hai, he overtook the whole field in the backstretch and held off all competition to prevail by 3/4 length, scoring his first G1 victory. In his next Yasuda Kinen start, after racing earlier in fifth, he was a major factor rallying for the lead in the last furlong but weakened in the final strides and finished third. Well rested, the son of Heart's Cry commenced his fall campaign in the Tenno Sho (Autumn) but was bumped after the break, lost momentum and turned in a tenth which is his only double-digit finish so far.

Suave Richard broke his maiden in his second start at two, taking command at the top of the straight from tracking in fourth and pulled away well to win by a length. The colt's first attempt at the graded level was as fourth pick in the Tokyo Sports Hai Nisai Stakes where he recovered well from racing far back following a slow break and assumed the lead 100 meters out while exhibiting the fastest late drive but was caught right before the wire to settle for a neck second.

Suave Richard's first start of his three-year-old season was in the Kyodo News Service Hai as second favorite where after sitting near the pace in fourth and overcoming traffic in early stretch, he accelerated from 300 meters out and was timed the fastest over the last 600 meters to score a 2-1/2-length victory. Sent off second pick once again in the Satsuki Sho (Japanese 2000 Guineas), he was unable to make up ground after angling wide from mid-pack, finishing 0.4 second from the winner in sixth. In the Tokyo Yushun, the chestnut took an economic trip around seventh, turned wide and stormed down the lane, pinning all but the winner Rey de Oro for a 3/4-length second.

Refreshed from a lengthy rest after his derby runner-up effort, the colt exerted a good turn of foot in the G2 Copa Republica Argentina where he assumed command 300 meters out after saving ground in mid-pack and cruised to a comfortable 2-1/2-length victory. Then sent off second pick in the year-end Arima Kinen won by Kitasan Black, he uncoiled an impressive stretch run after racing wide near the rear but was outrun by Cheval Grand and Queens Ring in a fierce three-horse battle in the final strides for the place and was a close fourth.

*Uchida rode in regional public racing from 1989 prior to acquiring his JRA jockey's license in 2008.

Win Tenderness captured his first and much-anticipated grade-race title in this year's G2 Meguro Kinen where, as ninth-favorite, he settled in mid-pack, patiently waited for room ascending the stretch hill and accelerated between horses in the last furlong to excel by 3/4 length. The matured five-year-old has finally started to show his true form, registering half of his career wins this season alone. He also holds an impressive record of 4-3-1 out of 17 races run left-handed, among ten of which he has shown good closing speed that was timed among the top three fastest in the last three furlongs. The late developer is headed towards his first G1 outing in this year's Japan Cup.

The son of Company made his debut as a two-year-old and broke his maiden by scoring a comfortable two-length win in his fourth start but was heavily beaten when sent off to his first grade-race challenge at the end of the season. After eight starts in his three-year-old campaign, the chestnut was transferred to the yard of his present trainer in October and marked 1-1-1 in his remaining three starts of that year which included his Miharukoma Tokubetsu victory where he raced wide in mid-field and rallied well to the wire for a neck win. He also landed a win among eight starts the following year, in the Urasa Tokubetsu, where he gradually improved position racing wide near the rear and took over the lead 200 meters out for a half-length win over a track rated yielding.

Win Tenderness kicked off this season beaten to 10th in the Hakone Tokubetsu but then showcased an impressive performance in the following Komaki Tokubetsu where he made rapid headway from the rear with the fastest last three-furlong drive and dug in to win by a neck. After a sixth in his next start, he bounced back to form with a wire-to-wire two-length victory in the Ryokufu Stakes and was at Tokyo Racecourse two weeks later scoring his Meguro Kinen victory. He set the pace in the G2 Kyoto Daishoten but squandered his huge lead and retreated 300 meters out to finish sixth. In his most recent G2 Copa Republica Argentina start, he was quick out of a wide stall to take the front but ran out of steam and was pinned in the last 100 meters for fourth.
